SEMA Conducts Awareness Activity as Part of the Pink October Campaign

As part of the Pink October campaign for breast cancer awareness, SEMA organized an educational event that hosted a number of beneficiaries at Ariha Women's and Children's Hospital. The event was held with the participation of teams from SEMA's Protection and Nutrition departments, along with teams from Bahar Organization.

The activity included educational sessions on the importance of early detection of breast cancer, an introduction to its warning signs and risk factors, in addition to training attendees on how to perform self-examination.

The campaign was launched under the slogan "Your Awareness is Life" and aimed to enhance women's health awareness to reduce breast cancer incidence and mortality rates.
